Former Kansas State and Kansas City Chiefs standout, Kevin Lockett, is teaming up with Liberty Mutual as part of the Liberty Mutual Invitational Series. The winning foursome in the handicap division is eligible to play in the Liberty Mutual Invitational National Finals at Kiawah Island in spring 2020. "Read & Achieve," the literacy program of Kevin's Lockett-Up Foundation, is the beneficiary.

The tournament is a four-player scramble. Teams in the handicap division must be amateurs with verifiable handicaps. The team must have a combined USGA Handicap Index of at least 43.0, only one player may have an index of 8.0 or lower.

The open division has no handicap requirement. Open division teams are not eligible for the Kiawah Island trip.

Everyone will receive great gifts and compete for prizes from Liberty Mutual, Cobra Puma Golf, Bridgestone Golf, Under Armour eyewear, Blank Label apparel and The Experience at St. Andrews.

Kevin established the Lockett-Up Foundation in 1998. Its mission is to increase academic achievements for at-risk and disadvantaged youth, including providing basic reading skills and computer training to those young people.
